Lawn Care: We ask for your patience. The Resort is having some issues with maintaining the lawn. We promise to have the issue corrected as soon as possible.

It's Spring Time

Two new additions to the Vacation Village Family. Sand Hill Cranes create a nest around a marsh location for the eggs to be placed into. They usually have 2 eggs at a time. The incubation period can take up to 30 days and either the mother or the father will be there at all times to warm them and to guard them. Within a day of coming out of the shells they can run around the nest and even to nearby twigs or branches. It will take about 10 months for them to be strong enough and to have enough feathers to fly away from the nest and start the independence.

For Gopher Tortoise mating season usually begins in April and ends in June. The gestation period is between 80 and 100 days. Female tortoises lay the eggs out in the open. Because of this about 94% eggs are destroyed by predators and adverse weather conditions.
